The Valley of Saints, a unique site in the world in the heart of Brittany

To visit the Valley of Saints is to unveil a glimpse of Brittany's history, get in direct contact with art, and travel through a world of marvellous legends and ancient rituals.

On a natural site at an altitude of 230m above sea level, offering a panoramic view of Central Brittany, the Valley of Saints invites you to discover monumental statues of 4m high on average, in the effigy of the Breton saints. Each year, new sculptures are added to this majestic site. Since 2009, passionate sculptors have come together to form huge blocks of Breton granite and unveil their know-how. In 50 years' time, nearly 1000 statues should crowd the Valley of Saints.

94 monumental sculptures to discover in 2018

The Breton saints thus honoured are mostly religious from Great Britain and Ireland who evangelized Armorica in the early Middle Ages. Their heritage is still present in Brittany: many communes, churches, chapels and schools bear their names, not to mention their famous legends which constitute the Breton culture.

Formula 1 : Guided Tour - 1h30

Duration of the guided tour adaptable on request: 1h to 2h.

First, your guide explains what the Valley of Saints is, why and how monumental statues are erected each year, and who are the Breton personalities represented. You will appreciate the history of the place that has been occupied by mankind for thousands of years, from prehistory to the Middle Ages, which left the remains of a feudal clod.

The majority of the visit will be devoted to discovering several statues and their mysterious attributes. Listen carefully, the guide will tell you some Breton legends. How did Saint Paol-Aurelian save the inhabitants of Batz Island from a terrible dragon? How will St. Tenenan get rid of leprosy instantly? So many questions that will have no more secrets for you!

The guides of the Valley of Saints welcome you in an enchanting place where history and legends intertwine for an original visit full of discoveries!

Formula 2 : Guided Tour 45min + Treasure Hunt 1h

For Work Committee-type groups, company seminars, and for all those who wish to organise a fun and friendly outing, combining cultural discovery and games.

The activity begins with a 45-minute guided tour that allows for an exchange where everyone can ask questions.

Afterwards, the participants are divided into several groups. Which team will then be the fastest to solve all the puzzles of the treasure hunt?

The objective is to create a team spirit through a fun challenge that will allow all the participants to become actors of their visit. Each team will have its own name with its own personalized treasure hunt.
